THE EXPERTS WEIGH IN Fun Factor

We try to set ourselves apart from other interior designers by showing off our fun side. We take things seriously, of course, but we still like to be different and have fun at the same time. We hope that working in a fun environment will inspire us and lead us to produce good work that our clients will appreciate.

Prep Work

Before you meet up with your designer, it would be helpful if you could send them your floorplans and let them know of your requirements for a home.

From there, we can share ideas and collaborate through the process. If you need a guiding hand, we're always there to offer advice.

Set The Stage

We work as a tightknit group to come up with ideas for the design, style and colours of an interior. You can still offer your input and opinions and we can adjust our design proposals accordingly. Once the design has been finalised and approved, we'll be ready to come up with a realistic timeline to meet your schedule.

PROJECT TYPE

2-Bedroom Condominium

FLOOR AREA

700 sqft

To many, a greyscale colour scheme for the home is one of the safest decoration routes to follow. But truth be told, it's not the easiest thing to pull off, especially when one envisions something quite dramatic. This apartment by Neu Konzeptz, however, pulls it off with great aplomb.

Showstopper

Neu Konzeptz wastes no time in making an impact with the living room. A charcoal grey colour sweeps across the wall on one side of the room. It is accentuated by cove lighting to create a sense of depth. Furniture like the sofa and console follow suit with the dark colour, but red soft furnishings like a rug and throw add a welcome burst of colour.

By The Bar

Adding to the glamour of the home is a curved bar counter that sits next to the living room. This multi-purpose space can be used as a typical serving bar or even a breakfast counter for quick meals. A band of LED lights wraps around the counter to bring grandeur to the space.

Private Corner

Keeping things consistent, the designers adopted the same colour scheme in the bathrooms. However, they also took some liberties with textures. The common and master bathrooms feature tiles of various textures that invite the eye to explore the spaces.

Clean Sweep

The apartment may only have a narrow kitchen, but the designers made the most of it with a galley kitchen. There is ample preparation space on both sides of the kitchen. Handle-less white cabinets keep things streamlined to draw one's focus to the kitchen window.

Being Bold

The bedroom has a distinctly masculine feel. The charcoal grey colour continues in the curtains as well as the overarching headboard, which offers a cocooning effect to the bed. Lighting is particularly important in the bedroom given the dark colour scheme. Here, vertical feature lights on both sides of the bed make for bold design statements.
